Thought for the weekend - wise men came from the East

Whoever the Magi were, and we may never know for certain, we should not over emphasise details of which we are not sure and have little basis in scripture. Equally importantly neither should we under-estimate the truth of what is contained in scripture and, in particular, the Christian message of Christmas; the message that when Christ was born, God himself came down and dwelt among us. And it was to that Christ that the Magi travelled, guided by the star. However they travelled, however long it took, it must have been quite a surprise when they found the Messiah in surroundings that they would not normally associate with a Messiah King. But in the story of the Magi and in their response to the infant Jesus we begin to see the changes that were occurring on earth through God's cosmic intervention. Basil the Great, a 4th century saint, described the mystery beautifully; 'Stars cross the sky, wise men journey from pagan lands, earth receives its saviour in a cave. Let there be no one without a gift to offer, no one without gratitude as we celebrate the salvation of the world, the birthday of the human race. Now it is no longer, "dust you are and to dust you shall return", but, "you are joined to heaven and into heaven you shall be taken up"'.

PRAYER FOR THIS WEEKEND: This is a prayer from the Church of Scotland that puts into context the adoration of the Magi.

Holy Jesus, before your infant form sages bowed the knee and acknowledged your Lordship over all power and wisdom. Grant us also clear vision and courage, that in the light of your light, we may devote our power and potential to your service even when that requires us to go home by another way. Amen.
